Informed Consent to Chiropractic Treatment

The nature of chiropractic treatment: A Chiropractic Adjustment is the specific application of forces to facilitate the correction of a vertebral subluxation. Chiropractic adjustments is a "hands on" approach to patient wellness. A Subluxation is a misalignment of one or more of the vertebrae in the spinal column. This subluxation can cause alteration of the functioning of the nerves, leading to pain and dysfunction. You may feel a "click" or "pop", such as the noise when a knuckle is "cracked", and you may feel movement of the joint. Various ancillary procedures, such as hot or cold packs, electric muscle stimulation, therapeutic ultrasound, traction, passive and active exercise may also be used.

Permission for Physical Contact. I understand that, in the course of various chiropractic examination procedures and treatment methods, the doctor of chiropractic or other clinical staff may have to examine and physically contact portions of my body. I understand that any contact of an intimate or sexual nature is illegal, unethical, never a part of chiropractic professional examination or treatment, and is prohibited. Nevertheless, I also realized that some chiropractic procedures may require that the doctor or clinician contact me in some physically sensitive areas, such as underarm areas, and over buttock/hip or upper thigh muscles. I understand, however, that before any sensitive contact or procedure occurs the doctor or other clinical staff member will explain to me □ what is to be done, □ how it will be performed, □ why it will be performed, □ that I may refuse that particular test or procedure, or alternatively that I may request that another member of the staff be present.

Possible Risks: As with any health care procedure, complications are possible following a chiropractic manipulation. Complications could include fractures of bone, muscular strain, ligamentous sprain, dislocations of joints, or injury to intervertebral discs, nerves or spinal cord. Cerebrovascular injury or stroke could occur upon severe injury to arteries of the neck. A minority of patients may notice stiffness or soreness after the first few days of treatment. The ancillary procedures could produce skin irritation, burns or minor complications, if you are allergic to latex, rubber, or cloth used in the towels.

Probability of risks occurring: The risks of complications due to chiropractic treatment have been described as "rare", about as often as complications are seen from the taking of a single aspirin tablet. The risk of cerebrovascular injury or stroke, has been estimated at one in one million to one in twenty million, and can be even further reduced by screening procedures. The probability of adverse reaction due to ancillary procedures is also considered "rare".

Other treatment options which could be considered may include the following:

- Over-the-counter analgesics. The risks of these medications include irritation to stomach, liver and kidneys, and other side effects in a significant number of cases.
- Medical care, typically anti-inflammatory drugs, tranquilizers, and analgesics. Risks of these drugs include gastrointestinal bleeding, kidney and liver disease as well as other undesirable side effects and patient dependence in a significant number of cases.
- Hospitalization in conjunction with medical care adds risk of exposure to virulent communicable disease in a significant number of cases.
- Surgery in conjunction with medical care adds the risks of infection and adverse reaction to anesthesia, as well as an extended convalescent period in a significant number of cases.

Risks of remaining untreated: Delay of treatment allows formation of adhesions, scar tissue and other degenerative changes. These changes can further reduce skeletal mobility, and induce chronic pain cycles. It is quite probable that delay of treatment will complicate the condition and make future rehabilitation more difficult.

I have read the following risks of care and I have read the explanation above of chiropractic treatment. I have had the opportunity to have any questions answered to my satisfaction. I have fully evaluated the risks and benefits of undergoing treatment. I have freely decided to undergo the recommended treatment and herby give my full consent to treatment.

FINANCIAL POLICY

Dear Patient,

Merckling Family Chiropractic P.C. requests that your payment for services be made at the time of your visit. This policy simplifies our billing and helps keep our fees down. For your convenience, we gladly accept DEBIT, VISA, MASTERCARD, AMERICAN EXPRESS and DISCOVER.

As a benefit to you, our office will be happy to bill your insurance. However, you are responsible for the difference between what your insurance pays and the total charges for your care. Health insurance is designed to help you meet the cost of your health care, but ultimately the basis responsibility is yours. Your insurance contract is strictly between you and your insurance company. We are not a party to that contract. If you have a plan under which we are not contract providers you will likely have a co-payment, and deductible. Please be prepared to pay those charges at the time of your visit.

No one should be without their needed chiropractic care. In the case of financial difficulty, please let us know so that a manageable payment schedule can be worked out. At your request, Dr. Merckling will discuss the charges with you before care begins. Hardship agreements can be arranged.
